There is just one medicine which can be counted on with absolute certainty to overcome the deadly assault of wasting disease counted on with absolute certainty to overcome the deadly assault of wasting disease and restore the rugged, mosterly power of perfect health. The "Golden Medical Discovery" of Dr. R. V. Ferce of Buffalo, N. Y., creates that keen digestive and nutritive capacity, which makes healthy, nourishing red blood, and keeps it pure and alive with bounding vitality. It nourishes, vitalizes and builds up every organ and tissue in the body; tones the liver; heals the lungs; strengthens the heart, and restores complete energy and cheerfulness.

"I had been troubled for several years with spells of liver complaint," writes H. N. Drunsfield, Rsq. of Sweetprings. Mouroe Co., W. Va, "and about two years ago my health gave way.
I tried Sarsaparilla. I was getting worse all the time. I had a weakness in my left side and limbs, palpitation of the heart at times, cramping pains in the stomach after eating; nerves weak, and no energy for anything. I took Dr.
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and began to mend from the start. I soon felt like a new person. I am now enloying splendid health and have a splendid apportite, good digestion, and also a peaceful, quiet mind."

Interesting Notes From a Carlyle Boy of the Twentieth who has Re-enlisted.

Mr. T. S. Ball, of Carlyle, has received a letter from his son, Norris, who went out with the Twentieth but re-enlisted for two years more service with the Thirty Sixth U.S. V., from which he kindly permits the following extracts to be made:

"I am at present clerking in the Quartermaster's Department, which is a good deal of a snap for it means noguard duty, no reveille or retreat, no roll call to answer and no danger when the regiment is ordered to the front, although that never bothered me in the least in the old regiment. "I wonder," said George, as we parted, "if that old fox chose you because you're a stranger." This hypothesis I had overlooked.

Upon the morrow I duly presented myself at the Gerard mansion, I posssed a suit of dress-clothes, in which I arrayed myself with lively satisfaction. I hadn't tied a white cravat for over a year, and my hand had lost something of its cunning; but I felt at home in my sables and-I will not say a gentleman, for every son of the Golden West is a gentleman, but-a gentilhomme.

My patron greeted me with a keen glance. He wore, what he had worn the day before, a plain business suit; and he received me in the library. "Cocktail?" he asked, abruptly.

I bowed; and the butler brought the
